» UNITED STAR MARCUS HITS BACK

RASHFORD

"I'm not perfect but do NOT question my commitment to Manchester United"

"My salary... my jewellery... my family... I suffer criticism that other players don't get"

BY DAVID McDONNELL
MARCUS RASHFORD has hit back at those who have questioned his commitment and desire to play for Manchester United.

Rashford has endured a difficult season since signing a lucrative new contract last summer on the back of a career-best 30-goal haul last year.

The striker has scored just five goals this season and has fallen foul of United boss Erik ten Hag, most recently following a boozy bender in Belfast, after which he missed training, claiming to be unwell.

The 26-year-old has been accused of failing to put in the required work-rate for United during games, but has come out fighting, claiming his commitment to his boyhood club should never be doubted.

"Listen, I'm not a perfect person," said the England star. "When I make a

POGBA: MY HURT AT 4-YEAR DRUG BAN

BY JOHN CROSS
PAUL POGBA has been left "heartbroken" after being hit with a four-year drug ban which could end his career.

The Juventus midfielder has promised to appeal after insisting he would "never knowingly or deliberately" use performance-enhancing substances.

The former Manchester United star was provisionally suspended in September after a random test found elevated levels of testosterone in his system.

The 30-year-old will be unable to play until 2027 as the ban is backdated to his original positive test - and he will be 33 before the four-year suspension is lifted.

But Pogba insists he has
