City cruise into the last eight ... who can stop them now?

BY DAVID McDONNELL
HOLDERS Manchester City strolled into the Champions League last night as Erling Haaland grabbed his 29th goal of the season.
City, leading 3-1 from the first leg, won by the same scoreline again to book their place in the draw a week tomorrow.
Manuel Akanji hit the opener and Julian Alvarez claimed the second after a howler from Copenhagen keeper Kamil Grabara.
The visitors pulled a goal back, but Haaland - who equalled Sergio Aguero's total of 41 Champions League goals in just 37 games, 42 fewer than City's all-time record goalscorer - made it 3-1 just before half-time.

It is understood Ratcliffe (above) has consulted with fellow owners the Glazers about his plan and the Americans agree with him.
The INEOS chief will ask the consultants he appoints - who have staff in 158 countries around the world - to focus on United's commercial, merchandising and matchday departments in particular.
The news will come as a huge shock to employees, who will now fear losing their jobs before the start of next season.
With almost 1,200 workers on the books at Old Trafford, United have the largest number
